Designer Jennifer Siegal's widely published prefab prototype, the OMD ShowHouse incorporates green technologies and high-end amenities in a factory-built, flexible and portable home. Clad in metal siding and translucent polycarbonate panels, this compact assemblage of form and function features high sloping ceilings, Boffi kitchen and bath, European fixtures, iPort sound system and a variety of sustainable floor and wall materials. Whether briefly situated on an urban lot, momentarily located in the open landscape, or positioned for a more lengthy stay, this portable house accommodates a wide range of needs and functions. 1 bedroom, 1 bathroom, 720 square feet.

PRICE DOES NOT INCLUDE LAND – UNIT MUST BE TRUCKED TO BUYER'S OWN SITE.
